

You choose the destination. We'll get you there.

Stressed at the thought of travelling down the F3 to make your domestic or international flight from Sydney Airport? Is the prospect of traffic, tolls, and expensive car parking creating knots in your stomach? But there is no other option is there? Wrong!

You can now get a flight from Newcastle Airport to Melbourne, Brisbane or the Gold Coast and then hub through to your next destination, international or domestic.

Not only is this more convenient, it might even save you money.

With up to 10 flights a day to Brisbane, four flights a day to Melbourne and daily flights to the Gold Coast, it makes sense to start your journey at Newcastle Airport and hub your way to your final destination.
